Decorations Suggests General Color Scheme.

That every building in Washington, both residential and commercial, be illuminated during the evenings of the G. A. R. encampment is the hope of the committee on decorations of the Chamber of Commerce, which met last evening to perfect its plans.

The committee decided to urge a general scheme of living greens with white backgrounds as the base of all decora-tions, and to have all flags flying in the breeze instead of being draped or wrapped. A circular will be sent to all local stores asking that fast-color bunt-ing be used as a precaution against rain. Four subcommittees were chosen to carry out the plans. The electrical dec-orations body, which will present plans and estimates to the general committee, composed of A. P. Clark, jr., chair-ian; F. D.
